

THE DASHPOT

Issue 76 Newsletter of the Association of Minemen Winter 2012

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Gary Cleland

Season's Greetings from San Diego. As we close out the year 2011 and enter the Holiday Season, I want to extend my thanks to many key people who played a large part in the success of the 37th AOM Reunion. Although we had a smaller turnout this year than we wished for, those who did attend indicated that a good time was had by all.

The following individuals deserve our special thanks. Warren and Jim for coordinating a fantastic event. You both worked tirelessly to keep things moving without a hitch. John, for providing the photo documentation of the entire event. I look forward to seeing the finished photo album.

Toby, for your spirited auctioneering, my granddaughter loves her $40 souvenir kaleidoscope. To all who donated auction items and then bid generously on them. A special heart-felt thanks to those who generously provide financial support to our Association and Scholarship Fund.

Many thanks to those who stepped up and were elected to assume the vacancies in our Association leadership, Tracey Hays, Eddie Adkins, Dan Epperly, Ron Glasen and Kurt Stauff. I look forward to serving with you in the coming year. Thank you, Bob Reed, Gary Elliot, Swede Carlson, Ron Swart and Bob Hart for your past service To the AOM.

Mineman of the Year awards went to MN1 (SW/FMF) CORY N. BLAIR (Shore) and MN2 (SW) JOSHUA S. GARZA (Afloat). Congratulations to you both for your fine achievement. Sadly, there were no MOY nominations from the Reserve component.

May God bless those who "Stand the Watch" at home and in harm's way, God bless America.

37TH ANNUAL AOM REUNION

POINT LOMA, CA
OCTOBER 14 - 16, 2011

By all accounts, the 37th annual reunion in San Diego was a huge success and a great time was had by all. The auction produced significant funds for our scholarship program as well.

Now we can all look forward to the 38th reunion in Panama City next October. Ron Swart is heading up that event and will keep all advised via The Dashpot as soon as the details are firm.

The 39th annual reunion will be held at Whidbey Island, WA in 2013. That will be a first for the association. Toby Horn will be the reunion master of that event. Many Minemen have served there at one time or another and those who like to hunt and fish were sad when it closed its doors.

Take a moment and think of the places Minemen used to serve; Port Lauotey, Malta, Mildenhall, Atsugi, Iwakuni, Yokosuka, Andoya, Keflavik, Argentia, Tinian, Machrihanish, Glen Douglas, Crete, Subic Bay, Cavite, Rota, and a host of others, some still extant, bursting with redolent memories, fathoms of folklore and fairy tale as well as extravagant extrusions of the truth sometimes called sea stories.

There never was enough paper, parchment or papyrus made to contain all the stories and tales. It is only recently that the manipulation of electrons has made it possible to record all the deeds of daring do. Sadly, most of those who could relate those stories are gone from our midst. I encourage the new generation of Minemen to attend the reunions and learn your history from those who remain.

Secretary

FROM THE SECRETARY/
TREASURER'S DESK

It has been an exciting 11 months for me since Curtis turned over the duties of Secretary/Treasurer. I survived 3 mailings of The Dashpot and my first AOM Reunion, with just a little help from Curtis. I am also proud to say that this year's reunion in San Diego actually made a profit of $190.00.

On another note, I would like to update all of you on our Scholarship Program. Since we started giving Scholarships in October 1996, the AOM has given out 159 scholarships, totaling $100,400.00. The program is working well because of the generous donations of an anonymous benefactor, donations from our members and the funds taken in from our yearly auctions at the reunions. Remember the Scholarship Program is for the future of our children and their education.

I am looking forward to 2012 and will continue to keep all of you informed. I hope everyone had a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Don't forget to pay your dues for 2012 as they were due in October. Check your address label, if it does not say Oct 2012 or more, this will be your last Dashpot until you have paid your dues.

SCHOLARSHIP

SCOOP

by Swede Carlsen

Finally, my stomach isn't feeling like the gas bag on a blimp. Thanksgiving makes you over indulge a bit. Now, we have the food fight at Christmas to look forward to.

For the members who couldn't attend this year's reunion I want to say you missed one of the better ones. The bidding at the picnic's auction was a fun time success. Between the bids at the auction and membership donations to the scholarship fund the AOM membership raised $26,943.75 for the general fund. We also have $19,861.93 working for us in the Presidential fund. I think 2012 will be a good year. BRAVO ZULU SHIPMATES!

Let's keep up the good work with donations to the Scholarship Fund at Christmas. Have a great holiday season.

STAND TALL AMERICA!

THE MAIL BAG

We, the Harold Elston Family, enjoyed the article William Roberts wrote for the winter 2010 Dashpot.

After one of his brothers read the story, he wanted me to send these pictures of his stone.

I pray for all to be well and have peace.

Ken Harder in Yokosuka

I gladly served with Ken Harder in Yokosuka & in Charleston. He was a straight shooter and a fine man. What a blow it was to see the e-mail advising of his passing.

Ken Harder was involved in one of the most unusual UNDET operations I had ever heard of, so when he came by FMWTC after the xpl-tests were completed he filled us in on what had been done and how it had been done. Determining the maximum standoff distance that a 60 lb. xpl-charge placed near mines & DSTs on the bottom would render them safe was desired.

The tests were done on the upper northeast coast where 30 ft. tides were common. While the tide was out the charges were placed at various distances and orientations of the mine/DST to the charge. For example, nose-on, tail-first, etc. Then they waited for the tide to come back in before firing the explosives. Then they waited for the tide to go back out so they could check to see if the mines had been cleared and to place new charges. Ken, while puffing on his ever present pipe, had us in stitches while he explained all of this to our instructors. We were amazed. He really knew how to tell a story.

Attention: Scholarship Committee Dear Sirs:

I recently spoke with Mr. Bill Carlson and informed him that I have taken a teaching job in Florida this year and will not be attending Graduate School at St. Joseph's College. I am, therefore, returning the scholarship check #1035 in the amount of $750 made out to me (LoriAnn Cavallo) and St. Joseph's College.

I truly appreciate being a scholarship recipient in the past and thank you for all your help with college. I will not forget to reapply when I attend college for my Master's degree.

Thank you again.

A CALL FOR HELP FOR THOSE WHO KNEW MN1 NEWBERRY

by MN2 (SW/AW) Mike Trnka, MINE WARFARE TRACEN, N7

A shipmate of mine who has had a run of pretty bad luck over the last year has just passed away from bacterial meningitis. He was MN1(WS/SC) William Newberry. Those who knew him called him Bill. Bill completed 17 1/2 years of honorable service to our country and the Navy. Just over a year ago Bill had to leave the Navy. He was honorably discharged, and moved his family back to Texas where he was from. His wife and children, one of which has autism, are still in Texas at this time in a house that she has to surrender to the mortgage company due to Bill's life insurance coverage running out a short time before his death. After she surrenders the house, she will be moving her and the children to Illinois to be closer to her family. We organized and held a couple of events, a car wash, and a bake sale to help her out with the cost of the move and the expense of getting a new house. I will be sending Mrs. Newberry the money from these 2 events along with all donations received by myself, and MN1 Munoz, who is collecting at the waterfront. You can send any donations directly to her at her mother's house where she will be staying until she can afford to get a place for herself and the kids: Spring Newberry, 722 W. Church, Benton, IL 62812

If there is any way you could help me help Bill's family, it would be greatly appreciated.

Editor's Note: Ken was a personal friend and incredible in many ways. To my knowledge, his shed was the final repository of the only "Texas cushions" extant, as were many demilitarized and cast off mine parts. Some of these parts made it back into the exercise mine program when the error of premature disposal was discovered some time later. This speaks reams about his foresight and his inability to let anything useful be relegated to landfill status. Ken also had a soft spot for discarded lawn mowers and kept a stockpile of several dozen which he freely bestowed on those needing parts. In the early 80s, I was the recipient of three such discarded mowers from which I constructed a single working mower with a significant stockpile of spare parts. For all I know, it is still mowing several yards in the College Park subdivision in Ladson.

I am convinced that, if such a thing as a dump or scrap yard exists in Heaven, when my time comes, I know I will be able to find Ken Harder, Joe Glowa and Buck Fowler, pipes clenched tightly between their teeth, carefully sorting out useful things and restoring them to pristine condition for whoever might find the need for them.

DD 214 ONLINE

It's official; DD-214s are now Online.

The National Personnel Records Center (NPRC) has provided the following website for veterans to gain access to their DD-214s online: <http://vetrecs.archives.gov/>

This may be particularly helpful when a veteran needs a copy of his DD-214 for employment purposes. NPRC is working to make it easier for veterans with computers and Internet access to obtain copies of documents from their military files.

Military veterans and the next of kin of deceased former military members may now use a new online military personnel records system to request documents.

Other individuals with a need for documents must still complete the Standard Form 180, which can be downloaded from the online web site. Because the requester will be asked to supply all information essential for NPRC to process the request, delays that normally occur when NPRC has to ask veterans for additional information will be minimized. The new web-based application was designed to provide better service on these requests by eliminating the records centers mail room and processing time.

Please pass this information on to former military personnel you may know and their dependents.

Editor's Note: By the time this gets to your door Christmas and New Year will be past. That doesn't mean the Editor and the Entire Staff of The Dashpot do not wish you a merry Christmas and a very happy and prosperous New Year. Bill

I Wish You Enough... I wish you enough sun to keep your attitude bright. I wish you enough rain to appreciate the sun more. I wish you enough happiness to keep your spirit alive. I wish you enough pain so that the smallest joys in life appear much bigger. I wish you enough gain to satisfy your wanting. I wish you enough loss to appreciate all you possess. I wish you enough hellos to get you through the final goodbye.

SAVE THE DATE IN 2013

4, 5, 6 OCTOBER

by Toby Horn

Yup!!! We're going to Whidbey Island, Washington for our 2013 reunion. A lot of research went into this selection for our next "West of the Mississippi" event. Many web searches and phone calls were made to inquire about the prospects. Results showed that, compared to a San Diego destination, we can go there cheaper (air fare), room cheaper (about half the cost per night), and have a great dinner (at a very reasonable cost) catered by the NAS Chiefs Club or Officers Club (yes, they have them) depending upon the size of our group. The picnic price will remain about the same, but we will have a great place for it at the NAS picnic and RV camp grounds located on the shoreline of Puget Sound. There's golf at the NAS golf course, many excursions to sightsee the local waterways and wildlife (think whales and salmon) – and, yes, the Oak Harbor Tavern is still there for a visit from all the old Whidbey Mineman sailors.

We're moving the date(s) up a week to coincide with the local Oktoberfest and several other local festivals – and the Chamber of Commerce guarantees that the Oak Harbor merchants will accept money from other states as you enjoy local restaurants, antique shops, novelty stores, massage parlor, etc. (more on this in coming issues).

This really looks to be a great adventure – going where we haven't gone before and proving we can go anywhere with minimal presence on the other end having to arrange things. You can no longer use the excuse "...if I have to pay all that money for travel, I want to go somewhere new!"

Toby and Jane Horn are our official coordinators for this great "departure from the norm". For inquiries reach them by e-mail at tobyonesc@bellsouth.net with "Reunion 2013" as the subject line – or by phone at 843-762-3552. They'd like to hear from you with your questions and ideas and to add your name to the head count (30 already and counting). In the meantime, do your own web search on Whidbey Island and see why we're so excited about going there. More to come!!!

Jim Ryan's Seabag

There was a time when everything you owned had to fit in your seabag.

Remember those nasty rascals? Fully packed, one of the suckers weighed more than the poor devil hauling it. The damn things weighed a ton and some idiot with an off-center sense of humor sewed a carry handle on it to help you haul it. Hell, you could bolt a handle on a Greyhound bus but it wouldn't make the damn thing portable. The Army, Marines, and Air Force got footlockers and WE got a big ole' canvas bag.

After you warped your spine jackassing the goofy thing through a bus or train station, sat on it waiting for connecting transportation and made folks mad because it was too damn big to fit in any overhead rack on any bus, train, and airplane ever made, the contents looked like hell. All your gear appeared to have come from bums who slept on park benches.

Traveling with a seabag was something left over from the "Yo-ho-ho and a bottle of rum" sailing ship days. Sailors used to sleep in hammocks, so you stowed your issue in a big canvas bag and lashed your hammock to it, hoisted it on your shoulder and, in effect, moved your entire home from ship to ship.

I wouldn't say you traveled light because with ONE strap it was a one shoulder load that could torque your skeletal frame and bust your ankles.

It was like hauling a dead Greenbay linebacker.

They wasted a lot of time in boot camp telling you how to pack one of the suckers. There was an officially sanctioned method of organization that you forgot after ten minutes on the other side of the gate at Great Lakes' or San Diego's boot camp.

You got rid of a lot of the 'issue' gear when you went to a SHIP. Did you EVER know a tin-can sailor who had a raincoat? A flat hat? One of those nut-hugger knit swimsuits? How bout those 'roll-your-own' neckerchiefs... The ones girls in a good Naval tailor shop would cut down & sew into a 'greasy snake' for two bucks?

Within six months, EVERY fleet sailor was down to ONE set of dress blues, port & starboard, undress blues, and whites, a couple of white hats, boots, shoes, a watch cap, assorted skivvies, a pea coat, and three sets of bleached-out dungarees.

The rest of your original issue was either in the pea coat locker, lucky bag, or had been reduced to wipe-down rags in the paint locker.

Underway ships were NOT ships that allowed vast accumulation of private gear.

Hobos who lived in discarded refrigerator crates could amass greater loads of pack-rat crap than fleet sailors. The confines of a canvas-back rack, side locker, and a couple of bunk bags did NOT allow one to live a Donald Trump existence.

Space and the going pay scale combined to make us envy the lifestyle of a mud-hut Ethiopian. We were global equivalents of nomadic Mongols without ponies to haul our stuff.

And after the rigid routine of boot camp, we learned the skill of random compression, known by mothers world-wide as 'cramming'. It is amazing what you can jam into a space no bigger than a bread-box if you pull a watch cap over a boot and push it with your foot.

Of course, it looks kinda weird when you pull it out, but they NEVER hold fashion shows at sea and wrinkles added character to a 'salty' appearance.

There was a four-hundred mile gap between the images on recruiting posters and the ACTUAL appearance of sailors at sea. It was NOT without justifiable reason that we were called the tin-can Navy.

We operated on the premise that if 'Cleanliness was next to Godliness' we must be next to the other end of that spectrum...

We looked like our clothing had been pressed with a waffle iron and packed by a bulldozer. But what in hell did they expect from a bunch of swabs that lived in a crew's hole of a 2100 Fletcher Class tin-can? After awhile you got used to it... You got used to everything you owned picking up and retaining that distinctive aroma... You got used to old ladies on busses taking a couple of wrinkled nose sniffs of your pea coat, then getting and finding another seat.

Do they still issue seabags? Can you still make five bucks sitting up half the night drawing a ship's picture on the side of one of the damn things with black and white marking pens that drive the old master-at-arms into a 'rig for heart attack' frenzy? Make their faces red... The veins on their neck bulge out.... And yell, 'What in God's name is that all over your seabag???' 'Artwork, Chief... It's like the work of Michelangelo... MY ship... GREAT, huh?"

"Looks like some damn comic book..."

Here was a man with cobras tattooed on his arms... A skull with a dagger through one eye and a ribbon reading 'DEATH BEFORE SHORE DUTY' on his shoulder... Crossed anchors with 'Subic Bay-1945' on the other shoulder... An eagle on his chest and a full blown Chinese dragon peeking out between the cheeks of his butt... If ANYONE was an authority on stuff that looked like a comic book, it HAD to be the MAA...

Sometimes, I look at all the crap stacked in my garage and home, close my eyes and smile, remembering a time when EVERYTHING I owned could be crammed into a canvas bag.

Happy Holidays from all of us at NMC COMOMAG Division in sunny San Diego, CA. With the beginning of the new fiscal year come new opportunities for the staff of NMC COMOMAG Division to serve the fleet in support of the Mine Warfare mission. CHARLESTON, SC

by MNCS(SW) Mike Szostkiewicz and MN1(SW) Shane Senseney TEAM CHARLESTON WARRIORS: "We work hard... so others don't have to!"

Hello and Greetings from Navy Munitions Command Charleston, SC! This was a very special quarter for us having celebrated the 236th birthday of the United States Navy. Secondly, our beloved Mineman rating celebrated its 68th birthday on 12 October. We were honored to have onboard CAPT John Kersch, Commanding Officer, Navy Munitions Command and CAPT Charles Marks, Commanding Officer, NMC CONUS East Division, to celebrate these snap shots in history with us.

We are ecstatic to announce the promotion of five superb Mineman. MN1(SW) Frank Alvarado, MN1(SW) Jon Reeves, MN1(SW) Ryan Bish, MN3 Angel Luna and MN3 Ashley Knight were recently promoted to their present rank. Moving on up like George and Weezie!

This quarter we welcome two senior shipmates to our family. LT(jg) Chris Weddell, joins us from the USS VICKSBURG (CG 69) as our new Mines Department Operations Officer. MNC (SW) James Knott joins us from LCS Squadron One to become our new Training Department LCPO/Quality Assurance Officer.

The seasonal weather made life a little easier here in the Low Country but the workload ceases to falter. Our Exercise and Training division continues to support Fleet Exercises across the globe.

We're all too familiar with Standard Operating Procedures and have been revamping ours recently. We explained our SOPs with Base Safety step by step so that they were easy to understand. Mine department's six new operating procedures have been validated and vetted through JBC Safety Dept/628th Mission Support Group. So easy a Caveman could do it!

As we entered fall and the weather began to cool we continued to reach out to the community. Eight Sailors raised $540 and participated in the Walk to End Alzheimer's while 4 Sailors and 12 Marines participated in the 9th Annual VA Stamp out Homelessness at Armory Park in North Charleston, SC. MN2(SW) Jonathan Pitts our Volunteer Coordinator also led 12 people in the Hampton Park beautification project.

Historic events happening at NMC Charleston! We recently concluded the 1st ever Worldwide Naval Reserve MOMAU Upgrade!! We plugged our Reserve counterparts into our quarterly upgrade for a very successful week of training. We were joined by Commanding Officers and crew from Naval Reserve MOMAUs 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10. With the extra support, we were able to run our Mk 65 upgrade simultaneously with our MAT1, MAT2 and MAT3 upgrades. NMC along with our Reserve counterparts had the opportunity to be addressed by CAPT (select) Paul Harvey, Commanding Officer, NMC COMOMAG. He expressed his gratitude for a job well done and presented NMC UNIT CHARLESTON with a framed letter of appreciation.

We piped ashore 5 shipmates this quarter. LS1(SW/AW) La Detrick Smith leaves us to further her career onboard the USS THEODORE ROOSEVELT (CVN 71). MN2 Robin Taylor heads to the West Coast to LCS PRE-COMMISSIONING UNIT. ITSN Kyle Mandle remains with us in the mine warfare family heading to the USS AVENGER (MCM 1) in Sasebo, Japan. MNSN Daniel Rendon and MNSN Corpuz depart the Navy for the Civilian sector. Good luck to you all!

Many good things have been happening onboard on the morale side of the house. Our MWR committee has been working feverishly putting together fund raising and morale boosting events. We had our 2nd semi-annual paintball tournament which ended up being an exhausting amount of exhilarating fun! In respect to Hispanic Heritage Month our CMEO MN1(SW) Senseney organized a Hispanic food potluck which turned out to be tasty! MN1 (SW) Smith our MWR President organized a potluck Thanksgiving Dinner which turned out to be one UNFORGETTABLE meal! The meal involved a huge team effort from the Navy, Marines, Civilians and their spouses. Here at NMC we work hard as a team and play equally as hard!

We also took the time recognize and celebrate the careers of two stellar Civilian employees, Mr. Kenneth Bausley with 36 years and Mr. Fred A. Mizell, 25 years. Your shoes will be hard to fill, GOOD LUCK!

Over the last year we have hit some incredible milestones for our Sailors here at NMC. Education is a fore leader in personal growth for our sailors that will not only benefit the Navy in the here and now but the sailor after separation/retirement. Our MN1(SW) Jon Reeves has been a driving force in the guidance of just that. In fiscal year 2011 alone we have had 24 enrolled personnel with 83 classes taken. Year to year our enrollment has grown and will continue to do so!

This quarter we recognized those among us who stand out; who go the extra mile and set the example for the rest. During his visit, we were honored to have CAPT John Kersch, Commanding Officer, Navy Munitions Command present NMC Unit Charleston's BJOQ, JSOQ, SSOQ, BJOY, JSOY and SSOY.

Maritime Prepositioning Force:

One of our myriad of missions here at NMC Unit Charleston is that of the Maritime Prepositioning Force. Here's an excerpt from: <http://www.msc.navy.mil/pm3/mpf.asp>

Fifteen Military Sealift Command (MSC) prepositioning ships are especially configured to transport supplies for the U.S. Marine Corps. Known as the Maritime Prepositioning Force (MPF), the ships were built or modified beginning in the mid-1980s and are forward-deployed to the western Pacific Ocean, the Indian Ocean and the Mediterranean Sea. The ships contain nearly everything the Marines need for initial military operations -- from tanks and ammunition to food and water and from fuel to spare parts and engine oil.

The ships are organized into three squadrons: MPS Squadron One, usually located in the Mediterranean Sea and eastern Atlantic; MPS Squadron Two, usually located at Diego Garcia; and MPS Squadron Three, normally in the Guam/Saipan area. In addition to Marine Corps designated ships, MPS squadron staffs also oversee all other prepositioning ships in their geographic operating areas.

Each MPS squadron carries sufficient equipment and supplies to sustain about 15,000 Marine Corps

Air Ground Task Force personnel for up to 30 days. Each ship can discharge cargo either pier side or while anchored offshore using lighterage carried aboard. This capability gives the Marine Corps the ability to operate in both developed and underdeveloped areas of the world.

Our civilian counterparts on the MPF and Rail team remain involved in the shipping and receipt of nearly 5,000 tons of ammunition and supplies from USNS SISLER (T-ARK-31), USNS PFC EUGENE A. OBREGON (T-AK-3006), USNS WATSON (T-AKR 310), USNS FISHER (T-AKR 301), and USNS SGT MATEJ KOCAK (T-AK 3005). We continue to ensure that all worldwide ordnance movements will go smoothly and efficiently.
